CRITICAL INTERSECTIONS

DANGEROUS ISSUES

San Jose CALIFORNIA
November 15-19, 2006
105th Annual Meeting

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

Critical Intersections/Dangerous Issues

MARIA D VESPERI
2006 EXECUTIVE PROGRAM CHAIR

Come prepared for something different.

Response to “Critical Intersections/Dangerous Issues” has been remarkably strong and varied. As the preliminary program demonstrates, a wide range of scholars has seized this opportunity to reach across boundaries and take inspired intellectual risks. The potential for generating new knowledge at the intersections mapped by our 2006 program is truly exciting.

The 105th Annual Meeting will supply provocative content in an untested package. A total of 724 paper sessions, poster sessions and special events will convene in a venue most of us—including me—have never seen.

I anticipate a productive match between our theme and the conference site; the convention center layout will allow us to break free of familiar routines. There will be a lounge area for all members and an additional lounge just for students. Old friends and new colleagues can meet at the coffee stations or browse information tables for flyers and literature.

Presidential Program

I am pleased to announce that Michael Parenti and Deborah Tannen will share a podium for the presidential session “Through A Glass Darkly: The United States in Global Perspective.” Parenti, author of 19 books including The Culture Struggle and Democracy for the Few, is a political scientist and historian who contributes regularly to radio and television political commentary. Deborah Tannen, a professor of linguistics at Georgetown University, is well known to anthropologists for her scholarly works. She also shares her sociolinguistic perspective with the public through op-ed analysis of contemporary political discourse.

The executive program committee has worked to intersect with sections and committees in interesting ways. For example, the presidential session “Debating Anthropological Practice & National Security: Past, Present and Across Borders, Part 1” is linked to a session co-sponsored by the AAA Committee on Ethics and the AAA Committee for Human Rights. This lineup has been coordinated with a second presidential session, “Dangerous Intersections: Rights and Security.”

“War,” a presidential session, will be linked to “Embodied Danger: The Health Costs of War and Political Violence,” organized for the presidential platform by the Society for Medical Anthropology Program Co-editor. The presidential session “Fabricating the Authentic: Anthropology and the Danger of the Real” has been designated the George W Stocking Symposium by the Anthropology and History Interest Group.

Three past-presidents and the president-elect of the AAA pitched in to organize sessions labeled “High Table Discussion.” These panels will offer an innovative format featuring short, intensive presentations and audience response. Come early—seating in each is limited to four groups of 25. The topics are: Language in Dangerous Spaces; Critical and Utopian Perspectives; Organizing Service Workers in an Era of Globalization; Linking Environmental Change, Human Health and Welfare; and Technologies of Practice.

Our presidential/executive platform includes 14 outstanding paper sessions beyond those listed above. Since all are ranked "A1," here they are in alphabetical order:

- ★ The 1906 Antiquities Act: A Century of Critical Intersections and Dangerous Issues
- ★ Biocultural Anthropology: The Half-Century Legacy of Jack Kelso
- ★ Critical and Dangerous Issues in Ethnographic Research in Native North America
- ★ Critical Intersections Engendering Indigenous Knowledge: The Contributions and Enduring Significance of Beatrice Medicine
- ★ Critical Intersections, Ethnographic Analyses and Theoretical Influence in Honor of Nancy Munn
- ★ Dangerous Intersections and New Cultural Spaces of Age, Mind and Body
- ★ Economics and Morality
- ★ The Evolution of Inequality
- ★ Human Sociality and the Four Fields: A Wenner-Gren Panel
- ★ New Approaches for Combatting HIV/AIDS and Food and Nutrition Insecurity in Sub-Saharan Africa: Part I: What Social Scientists Can Contribute; Part II: Taking Gender Into Account
- ★ The New York African Burial Ground "Final" Analysis: Intersections of Time, Space and Perspective
- ★ The Orgasm
- ★ Speaking With/For Nature: Conversations with Biologists and Their Non-Human Others
- ★ Those People! The Shared Foundations of Contemporary Racist and Anti-Immigrant Sentiments

Special Events

The executive program committee is sponsoring a graduate poster session and a 27-member, two-part undergraduate poster session called "First Rites: Innovative Undergraduate Research in Anthropology." We are also supporting, with the Anthropology Education Committee, an initiative to allow K-12 teachers from the San José area school district to attend the meeting.

Everyone is invited to attend the cash bar receptions planned for Thursday and Saturday. President Alan Goodman's Thursday night welcome reception will be followed by this year's distinguished lecture, "American Anthropology in the Middle Decade: A View from Hollywood," delivered by Sydel Silverman. We plan to end the evening with poetry reading and performance in honor of Katherine Dunham, who passed away earlier this year.

The Saturday reception follows a presidential session honoring the long career of another influential scholar, Bea Medicine. There will be a short program of poetry, song and testimonials in her honor. After the reception all members are invited to celebrate their colleagues' achievements at the AAA Awards Ceremony, followed by the association business meeting. This year's business meeting will be a substantive wrap-up of AAA issues, including a report from the Section Assembly. We are working with a graduate student committee to complete the evening with musical entertainment.

Some organizers requested Sunday slots and there will be a full program in San José until noon. Come early and stay late—you won't want to miss this meeting.

Confirmation Letters

All members who submitted proposals for papers, posters, sessions and special events for the AAA Annual Meeting were emailed letters of acceptance or rejection between July 28 and August 21. If you are a session participant and did not hear about your session by August 21, contact your session organizer. If you submitted an individually volunteered paper/poster and have not heard by August 21, contact the meeting department at 703/528-1902, ext 3025, or kminter@aaanetorg.

Please check the final AAA Annual Meeting Program for possible scheduling changes.

Downtown San José Restaurants

By Sheila and Ned Himmel

Any city in San Francisco's orbit has a hard time working up a reputation as a restaurant destination. But if you know your way in downtown San José, the possibilities are delicious at all price levels.

Especially for a variety of Vietnamese food, from simple pho (beef and noodle soup) to caramelized jumbo prawns and tamarind soup with catfish and lemongrass, downtown San José around East Santa Clara Street from 4th to 12th streets tops any US city except Los Angeles. And, you can walk it.

Most of these serve lunch and dinner, although not necessarily lunch on weekends. Call first. The prefix is always 408.

A very good place to start, Good Karma (37 S First St, 294-2694) is a tiny vegan Vietnamese deli that pleases omnivores as well. Closer to City Hall, one of many Lee's Sandwiches (260 E Santa Clara St, 286-8808) produces cheap French-style Vietnamese sandwiches behind a Krispy Kreme-like "Hot Sandwiches" exterior.

If you want to relax in higher style, Saigon 75 (304 E Santa Clara St, 286-4900) even has white tablecloths. A half-mile away is the industry standard for modern Vietnamese dining, Vung Tau (535 E Santa Clara St, 288-9055).

Across the campus of San José State is another pocket of cheap, reliable Vietnamese food. In addition to noodle soups, China Chen (400 S Third St, 294-2525) has particularly good shrimp wonton soup. Dakao (98 E San Salvador St, 286-7260) is the local competitor to Lee's Sandwiches.

Between City Hall and the impressive Martin Luther King Jr Public Library, Café Pomegranate (221 E San Fernando St, 271-8822) and Peanuts Deluxe Sandwiches (275 E San Fernando St, 998-9778) are open for breakfast.

Closer to the Convention Center, Arcadia in the Marriott Hotel (301 S Market St, 278-4555) carries the imprimatur of star chef Michael Mina. Fun for a splurge, from breakfast on. Il Fornaio in the Hyatt Ste Claire (302 S Market St, 271-3366) offers breakfast specialties like French toast and fine regional Italian dishes at lunch and dinner. Il Fornaio also has a good reputation for its free appetizers at Happy Hour.

At the next corner of the same block, Original Joe's (301 S First St, 292-7030) is San José's oldest restaurant, serving huge portions of Italian-American classics like veal Parmigiana for 50 years. Breakfast is served all day.

Half a block south on First Street, Eulipia (374 S First St, 280-6161) pioneered California cuisine with jazz on the side. The stylish Paragon (211 S First St, 282-8888) features an outdoor lounge that may even be useable in November.

The noticeably tall Fairmont Hotel houses San José's premier steak and martini house, the Grill on the Alley (172 S Market St, 294-2244), a branch of the Beverly Hills deal-makers' restaurant. Across that alley, McCormick and Schmick's (170 S Market St, 283-7200) is a national chain with fresh seafood and airs of urbanity.

Within two blocks east of the Fairmont, you can make a meal of stellar Southeast Asian appetizers at E&O Trading Co (96 S First St, 938-4100). Also try an exotic cocktail.

If beer and burgers are more your style, go to Gordon Biersch (33 E San Fernando, 294-6785), a brewery with a nice patio and plenty of tables for large parties.

Many people also like PF Chang's China Bistro (98 S Second St, 961-5250), where drinks and décor are bigger draws than food.

House of Siam (151 S Second St, 295-3397) offers good Thai food in a comfortable setting. Across the light-rail tracks (and pay attention to the signals because the trains are pretty quiet), Hawg's Seafood Bar (150 S 2nd St, 287-9955) has reasonable prices, especially at lunch.

On the other side of Plaza de Cesar Chavez from the Fairmont, Scott's Seafood (185 Park Ave, 971-1700) has the best view of the Santa Clara Valley. On the ground floor, Peggy Sue's (183 Park Ave, 294-0252, and at 29 N San Pedro, 298-6750) is a '50s-style diner.

One block north, Shalimar Indian Cuisine (167 W San Fernando, 971-2200) has a wonderful lunch buffet. One more block north, San Pedro Square is all about eating and drinking. AP Stump's (163 W Santa Clara St, 292-9928) marries seasonal specialties to its excellent wine list. Wine pairings are offered at 71 St Peter (71 N San Pedro, 971-8523) with French-accented California cuisine, and very fine three-course dinners at reasonable prices.

One block west, La Pastaia (233 W Santa Clara St, 286-8686) features excellent Northern Italian food in the art deco De Anza Hotel. The hotel's very cool deco-Moorish style Hedley Club serves drinks and jazz.

That dirigible in the background is Hewlett Packard Pavilion, home of the NHL Sharks and Barbra Streisand, when she's in town. The cluster of restaurants in that area has to start with Henry's World Famous Hi-Life (301 W St John, 295-5414). You take a number and wait in the bar of this ruddy building and then move into the crowded dining rooms for huge portions of steak, ribs and chicken.

A block away, Lowry's Irish Coffee House (350 W Julian St, 993-9356) serves substantial sandwiches and salads, also breakfast.

On the south side of HP Pavilion/dirigible, the Poor House Bistro (91 S Autumn St, 292-5837) honors New Orleans. Brunch on Sunday.

San José has soul-satisfying Cuban food at Los Cubanos (22 N Almaden Ave, 279-0134), but for Mexican food you're mostly looking at taquerias. Each has a specialty, however. In the downtown area, Mucho's (72 E Santa Clara St, 277-0333) specializes in spit-roasted chicken. La Victoria (140 E San Carlos St, 298-5335) is the place for breakfast burritos, tortas and quesadillas. Bakery Mexico (87 E Santa Clara St, 920-2518) also has excellent tortas.

Sheila Himmel is the former restaurant critic of the San José Mercury News. Her husband, Ned Himmel, is the assistant director of the San José Public Library.

Sites in Silicon Valley Worth the Visit

The Tech Museum of Innovation Only in Silicon Valley can you find The Tech Museum of Innovation. A place celebrating human ingenuity and the spirit of the possible. The Tech is a place about real technology, changing the way people work and play, create, harness and share information, how we innovate, how we do things differently. It's a place that is fun and engaging for all ages putting you in tour with technology as you have never experienced it: hands on, minds-on, in your face up close and fascinating. Solve a crime using DNA and new forensic tools, "Float" like an astronaut in our jet pack simulator, Immerse yourself in our Hackworth IMAX Dome Theater, with a giant eight-story wraparound screen and 14,000 watts of digital sound.

History San Jose The San Jose Historical Museum houses original and reconstructed replicas of landmark buildings bring to life the look and feel of San Jose in the 1800's through the 1920's. The village, complete with neighborhoods, paved streets, and working trolleys, transports visitors to another time and place. Among the 28 restored and replicated structures is the Pacific Hotel, which features a gift shop, ice cream and candy store. Visitors are welcome to stroll through some of the buildings at their own pace on the weekends when the buildings are open and staffed with trained interpreters.

Japanese Friendship Garden San Jose's Japanese Friendship Garden is a beautiful living symbol of the "Sister City" relationship between Okayama, Japan and San Jose, California. The garden was dedicated in October 1965, and was patterned after Okayama's world famous Korakuen Park. While visiting the garden, take some time to feed the exotic koi fish. Two feeding stations are available and you may purchase food for a small fee.

American Anthropology in the Middle Decades: A View From Hollywood

The 2006 AAA Distinguished Lecture by Sydel Silverman

ALAN GOODMAN
AAA PRESIDENT

What thread links together labor organizing, Bronislaw Malinowski, race relations in the Deep South, Hollywood and our distinguished lecturer Sydel Silverman? One intriguing answer is the career of anthropologist Hortense Powdermaker (1896–1970). In her 2006 distinguished lecture, Sydel Silverman will use Powdermaker's pioneering 1946 study of Hollywood as a jumping off point to explore some infrequently considered strands of the history of American anthropology. Silverman will analyze Powdermaker's fascinating study and then take us back to the movies themselves and compare them to anthropological projects developed in the same sociopolitical milieu.

An abridged history of anthropology up to the Cold War goes something like this: Anthropology began and for a long time continued to be defined as the study of "primitive" cultures. As its subjects disappeared, anthropology extended its scope from the study of bands, tribes and chiefdoms to peasants and then to urbanization and industrial societies. The history of inclusion mirrors the linear versions of societal evolution. Similarly, the main theoretical trunk of Americanist anthropology was securely Boasian and Kroeberian historical particularism until functionalism came along. More explicitly interpretive, political economy and critical approaches were not seriously introduced until the 1970s.

Of course there are other images of the history of anthropology, and some look bushier and more like pendulums that swing back and forth. Sometimes we forget prior swings of the pendulum, perhaps because they leave little trace, and sometimes studies that are located on one of the further branches are similarly written out of all but the more detailed histories.

Sydel Silverman, our distinguished lecturer this year, developed a deeper fascination with our historical selectivity through an unusual text: Hollywood the Dream Factory, Hortense Powdermaker's study of movie making, published in 1950. Critical of the materialistic values of her American-German-Jewish family, Powdermaker became an organizer for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, got bored with her desk job, traveled to London and by serendipity found anthropology and completed her PhD in 1928 under the tutelage of Malinowski at the London School for Economics. After completing a Malinowskian-type study of "primitives" in Melanesia (Life in Lesu, 1932) Powdermaker returned to the US and completed the first ethnographic study of an American community by an anthropologist in 1932–33, focusing on race relations in Mississippi (After Freedom, 1939). In this study, Powdermaker purposefully and powerfully recounted inter-racial interactions and tensions, marking her study as an early foray into the progressive social science of the prewar years.

Powdermaker went on to her Hollywood study after realizing that movies influenced the individuals she was studying in Mississippi. Her work is an early example of what would now be called media studies and of "studying up." While Powdermaker's prior ethnographic work in Mississippi encompasses such issues as labor, class and racism, these are excluded from her Hollywood study. Silverman is interested in understanding why Powdermaker restricted herself in the later study. Sorting out the puzzle led Sydel Silverman directly to the movies of the 1930s to the late 1960s.

Sydel Silverman is one of the foremost anthropologists and historians of anthropology of her generation. Initially trained as a Europeanist and specifically working in Italy, Silverman was a professor of anthropology at City University of New York and is perhaps best known for her presidency of the Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research (1987–99). In 1999 she received our association's Franz Boas Award for Exemplary Service to Anthropology. She has had a longstanding interest in the careers of anthropologists and in the history of anthropology. Totems and Teachers, originally published in 1981 (revised in 2003) explores the social contexts and influences of nine prominent anthropologists. The Beast on the Table (2002), a reflection on 25 Wenner-Gren conferences, is a fascinating window onto the historical nature and sociopolitical ecologies of collaborative, intellectual projects.

What is most interesting about the movies and anthropology is not just that Powdermaker studied a mass medium anthropologically well before her time. Rather, it is that there may be parallels between anthropology and the movies. Both, as Silverman will illustrate, were shaped by broader politics and economics, not least the Depression, World War II and the Cold War. Be they either for a Saturday matinee or an academic journal, stories are made within the same contexts. Silverman examines Powdermaker's fascinating study within the anthropological and sociopolitical context of the time. A lesson of history worth repeating is that sociopolitical forces affect our work today no less than in the past.

The 2006 AAA Distinguished Lecture by Sydel Silverman will take place on Thursday, November 16, at 8 pm in Ballroom 1 on the concourse level of the convention center.

General Information/105th Annual Meeting

November 15-19, 2006; San José, CA

The American Anthropological Association's 105th Annual Meeting will be held under the single roof venue that is known as the One Connection: the San José McEnery Convention Center, San José Marriott and Hilton San José & Towers. All scientific sessions, committee meetings and workshops are scheduled at the One Connection.

The AAA Preliminary Program will be available on the AAA website (www.aaanet.org). This includes the schedule of all sessions and meetings, as well as all registration and housing forms.

REGISTRATION

You can pre-register online at www.aaanet.org until October 15.

After October 15, you can register onsite. Advance registrants will receive a registration receipt to present at the advance registration desk to pick up meeting badges, program and other meeting materials. The receipts will be mailed in early November. Advance and onsite registration desks will be open Wednesday through Saturday at the convention center.

To register online for workshops and roundtables, go to www.aaanet.org.

Please note: Meeting registration is required to attend any session, meeting, exhibit, service or function of the 105th annual meeting, and name badges should be worn as proof of registration.

Registration refunds: Cancellations received by email or fax by October 15 will be eligible for a refund. After October 15, registrants are no longer eligible for refunds or credits. A $20 processing fee is applied against all registration fees refunded. Registration fees are not refunded to presenters who cancel their participation on the program.

PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS

You registered for the meeting when you submitted a session or paper proposal, so you do not have to register again. If you withdraw from the program, whether you are reading a paper, chairing a session or acting as discussant, please communicate with the AAA Meetings Department, 2200 Wilson Blvd, Suite 600, Arlington, VA 22201-3357; fax your withdrawal to 703/528-3546. Presenters who cancel their participation on the program receive no refunds.

Children's Discovery Museum of San Jose

The striking 52,000 square foot purple building, designed by Mexico City-based architect Ricardo Legorreta, signals the purpose of Children's Discovery Museum to serve the needs of children, families and schools as a center for learning and discovery. Over 28,000 square feet of semi-permanent and traveling exhibits address the educational and cultural needs of CDM's audience through the themes of Connections, Community and Creativity.

Monterey Bay Aquarium

We're located on Monterey's historic Cannery Row, right on the edge of beautiful Monterey Bay and just minutes from Carmel and Pebble Beach. With each visit, you'll find something new—and your visit supports our efforts to inspire conservation of the oceans.

Santa Clara Mission

The first sight that greets visitors to Santa Clara University is the façade of the restored church of Mission Santa Clara de Asís. Santa Clara University, the oldest college in California, is also the only college in the state to be the successor of a Spanish mission. The history of both institutions is intimately bound up with the history of the state. The university, founded in 1851, was born amid the tumultuous growth of the Gold Rush era. The mission, dating back to 1777, was the first outpost of Spanish civilization in the Santa Clara Valley.

San Juan Bautista

In June, 1803, the cornerstone was laid for the present church. With three naves or aisles, it became the widest of all the mission churches. It was dedicated on June 23, 1812. Padre Esteban Tapis is buried in the sanctuary of the church. He was, at one time, Presidente of the Missions and he is founder of the Mission Santa Ines. When he retired from office he came to San Juan Bautista where his musical talents brought fame and a new name to San Juan, "The Mission of Music." Two of his handwritten choir books can be seen in the museum.
